Strategic Analyses of the National River Linking Project (NRLP) of India Series 3

Promoting Irrigation Demand Management in India: Potentials, Problems and Prospects

Robhithauma Maria Saleth, editor
Acknowledgement .............................................................................................................................. v

Preface ................................................................................................................................................ vii

Paper 1. Promoting Irrigation Demand Management in India: Policy Options and Institutional Requirements ........................................................................................................ 01
  Rathinasamy Maria Saleth and Upali A. Amarasinghe

Paper 2. Water Pricing as a Demand Management Option: Potentials, Problems and Prospects .... 25
  V. Ratna Reddy

Paper 3. Water Markets as a Demand Management Option: Potentials, Problems and Prospects ........................................................................................................................................ 47
  K. Palanisami

Paper 4. Energy Regulations as a Demand Management Option: Potentials, Problems and Prospects ................................................................................................................................ 71
  R.P.S. Malik

Paper 5. Water Saving Technologies as a Demand Management Option: Potentials,
Problems and Prospects ............................................................................................................. 93
  A. Narayananamoorthy

Paper 6. Water Rights System as a Demand Management Option: Potentials,
Problems and Prospects .......................................................................................................... 127
  Vishal Narain

Paper 7. User Organizations as a Demand Management Option: Potentials,
Problems and Prospects ........................................................................................................... 147
  M. Venkata Reddy